PREFACE.

The genealogy of Virginian families has, for obvious reasons, been regarded to be of peculiar interest. It would hardly be too much to say that Bishop Meade's "Old Churches and Families of Virginia" is a corner-stone in the edifice of American genealogical lore, and that there has been no "long-felt want" more pressing than that for a satisfactory index and digest of this great work.

The compiler of the following pages lays claim to no credit beyond that which is due to the accurate performance of an uncommonly laborious task. So great, in Bishop Meade's work, is the number of names to be included in even the simplest index that the making of this would be no slight matter, and this labor has been vastly increased by the compiler's design to identify the individuals mentioned and to present, along with the index, a digest of important facts recorded in the book. It is matter of regret that students have not had, from the beginning, access to a full and accurate digested index to this work; not so much because of the time wasted for want of such a help as for the reason that most of them, lacking this guide, have largely forborne to attempt to use the well-nigh boundless treasure of personal and public history within these pages. It will surely, then, be matter of congratulation to all who are interested in historical research and its results that now, at last, such a digested index is presented, as it is a matter of gratification to the compiler that he now proffers to the thirsty a "seasoned gourd" with which they may dip from another's spring the sweetest water of which is often beyond the reach of the casual passer-by.

I wish to acknowledge my indebtedness to my friend, Mr. John Hart, of Richmond, Va., who has given me valued assistance at every point of this work.
